Reviewer's report:

Reviewer's Comments to Authors:

Luo et al., reported a rare case of retinal neovascularization secondary to highly myopic superficial retinoschisis in a 38-year old female patient. The case has been presented and discussed well. Beyond the potentiality of the manuscript, I have a few minor concerns that the authors may address before going to publish in BMC Ophthalmology.

Minor comments:

1. Please define PVD at first mentioned.

2. Please include vitreous hemorrhage images at first visit and follow-up visits.

3. What was the visual acuity during follow-ups?

4. Add a reference for the statement "The location of schisis doesn't seem like a significant contributory factor, since retinal neovascularization secondary to superficial retinoschisis was reported both at macula and nasal quadrant".

5. Please update the reference 5 and write it in journal's reference style.

Thank you
