Title: Effect of a tailored leaflet to promote diabetic retinopathy screening among young adults with type 2 diabetes: a randomised controlled trial.

Reviewer's report:

This reviewer commends the authors on the admirable goal to promote DR screening. However, I'm really sorry that cannot effectively review the article until the writing is improved. Specifically, at least to me, I cannot understand what the authors are talking about because of many compound and run-on sentences. They also need to define "update" early in the article. I'm guessing this means "read and understand" but honestly I don't know. I'd be happy to re-evaluate this article.
