Title: Acute spontaneous neck haematoma in infants: a rare entity

Version: 3 Date: 12 January 2015

Reviewer: ajoy prasad Prasad shetty

Reviewer's report:

The paper on acute spontaneous haematoma is interesting as it is a rare condition. The positive points in this paper are
1) well written
2) adequate review of literature
3) the case has been well worked out to identify & rule out any known cause of the condition.
4) It highlights a rare condition & gives a therapeutic approach to the problem

It might be difficult to rule out minor trauma as one of the differential diagnosis
