Title: A novel mutation of WFS1 gene in a Chinese patient with Wolfram syndrome: a case report

Version: 0 Date: 15 Jun 2017

Reviewer's report:
In this paper the authors describe a patient with a novel WFS1 mutation. The paper is interesting but some points could be improved.
1. In the title, it seems that the authors review the literature. In my opinion the literature review is quite limited. Could you change the title?
2. Please, report some info about blood glucose control, diabetes treatment, biochemistry at diabetes onset.
3. Did you assess hearing function?
4. The authors claim this is a novel mutation. I think that they should state which mutation database was used to assess that this is a novel mutation and how they can say it is a causative one rather than a polymorphism. It cosegregates with phenotype, but an in silico analysis or something like that would improve its reliability.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.
Yes

Does the work include the necessary controls?
If not, please specify which controls are required in your comments to the authors.
Unable to assess

Are the conclusions drawn adequately supported by the data shown?
If not, please explain in your comments to the authors.
Yes
Are you able to assess any statistics in the manuscript or would you recommend an additional statistical review?
If an additional statistical review is recommended, please specify what aspects require further assessment in your comments to the editors.
