Title: Selected risk factors for atherosclerosis in children and their parents with positive family history of premature cardiovascular diseases: a prospective study

Version: 1 Date: 24 Nov 2017

Reviewer: Michael Mendelson

Reviewer's report:
The authors have reasonably responded to my comments. They note higher Lpa levels in very young children with a family history of premature cardiovascular disease. This report helps to delineate which lipid changes can be seen at various ages in relation to familial premature CVD risk.

There are occasional typos and grammatical errors that can be improved upon.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
