I have three main concerns, which are easily implementable.

First, some important articles are missing in the introduction and discussion which relates to past studies with the measure in cross-cultural settings.

Second, it should be avoided "Sensitivity" from the methods/results/discussion, whereas could be mistaken for sensitivity to change. Floor and ceiling effect- These are descriptive measures.

Third, the authors have to do principal axis factoring and not principal component analysis for testing construct validity.
Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.
