Title: Women's knowledge of neonatal danger signs and its associated factors in Ethiopia: a systematic review and meta-analysis

In general I appreciate the authors have addressed my concerns raised during the previous review. However, the manuscript needs correcting some editorial issues, especially with in introduction and results sections before considering for publication.

Specific comments:

Introduction

Page 8: line 24-30: The statement which says, "Improve the quality of maternal and newborn care from pregnancy to postnatal period, invest and strengthen the quality of during intrapartum to the first week of life, and expanding quality services for small and sick newborns were the recommended strategy to prevent neonatal danger signs and its complications." …is a complex statement should be revised and please add also citation. Missing word with in the "…..invest and strengthen the quality of …..during intrapartum to the first week of life….."

Result

Page 15 line 35-42: Please remove the word respectively and revise correctly the statement which says "Therefore after conducting the subgroup analysis of study setting, the pooled prevalence was reported in facility based was 40.9% (95%CI: 13.16, 68.59) and community based with a prevalence of 40.6% (95%CI: 23.47, 57.64) respectively." Page 15 line 35-58: For this two paragraphs please check the font size and style which seems inconsistent.

The manuscript can be considered for publication after the authors corrected the above minor corrections.
