Title: Spinal epidural hematoma without significant trauma in children: Two case reports and review of the literature

Version: 1 Date: 04 Sep 2019

Reviewer: Hiroshi Yamaguchi

Reviewer's report:

This is a revised manuscript (R1) of two case reports of SSEH in children with extensive review of the pediatric literature. The authors responded appropriately to reviewer's questions, and the paper much better improved. I recommend to accept this manuscript after minor changes below.1) In Fig.1, it is better to describe which figure is T1 or T2. For example, in case 1 (Fig. 1 a-c) a hyperacute epidural hemorrhage was revealed (T1w isointense signal (b) and T2w slightly hyperintense signal (a)) etc...2) It may be better to show the vertical axis label of the figure 3.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
