Reviewer's report:

I read with interest this manuscript. This case report is well described with accurate clinical and especially biological informations leading to the property of the contains However, some issues are altering the quality of the main message of this case report This manuscript should be rewritten with the help of a native English speaker The authors should simplify the main message of this case report: in case of a known (or highly suspected) CGD with a documented infection, clinical or biological features of HLH should encourage the physician to make possible to confirm or not the HLH; therefore to initiate the adequate treatment in association with anti-infective therapy. Does the cytokine screening helpful in such case? if so, is it achievable?
