Title: Association between migraine and suicidal behavior among Ethiopian adults

Version: 0 Date: 22 Sep 2017

Reviewer: Maurizio Pompili

Reviewer's report:

The authors reported original research findings from their investigation on the association between migraine and suicidal behaviors in Ethiopian adults. The paper is of interest for the journal. I have however some shortcomings to mention. First. the paper lacks of proper aims and hypothesis. Second, the assessment of suicidal behavior needs some clarification. Authors should provide a definition of what a suicide attempt is and above all report a reference indicating that nomenclature is clearly define. I would stress a bit more in the discussion the usefulness of the present data for the purpose of clinical practice and cite the following paper: Pompili Psychiatric comorbidity and suicide risk in patients with chronic migraine. Neuropsychiatr Dis Treat. 2010
