Title: Between Being Healthy and Becoming Comatose: The Neuropsychiatric Landscape of Critical Illness With a Focus on Delirium, DSM-5 and ICD-11

Version: 0 Date: 23 May 2019

Reviewer: Igor Pantic

Reviewer's report:

The manuscript is well written, balanced and readable. Background, Main text and Conclusion are adequately written and organized.

I suggest a minor change:

- It is important that the authors mentioned the fifth edition of the diagnostic and statistical manual of mental disorders (DSM5) and the recently published and yet to be adopted eleventh revision of the international classification of diseases (ICD-11). The discrepancies between these two classifications, and their weaknesses related to neuropsychiatric symptoms and disorders in the critically ill, should be additionally discussed (perhaps in one additional paragraph).

- Please carefully check the manuscript for technical/style errors.
