Title: CASE REPORT: A GIANT ARACHNOID CYST MASKING ALZHEIMER’S DISEASE

Version: 4 Date: 04 Jul 2019

Reviewer: Dorina Cadar

Reviewer's report:

This case report illustrates the necessity of a systematic work-up for neurodegenerative disorders in patients with arachnoid cysts and emerging cognitive decline. The authors proposed a modus operandi for the stratification and management of autho performed the SPM standard analysis and the results are compatible with the surface based analysis. The authors include an exemplary video of the results.

I agree with the authors that the surface-based approach is the best possible treatment of the data and allows the reader to judge the data in a single picture.
