Title: Increasing children's physical activity through a teaching-assistant led extracurricular intervention: Process evaluation of the Action 3:30 randomised feasibility trial

The authors did a huge job in revising their manuscript and incorporating all suggestions from the reviewers. Of course it is a pity that SDT part has now been taken out, but the reasons are clear and the manuscript is now more easy to read and is more coherent. I am looking forward to read the other paper as well.

Level of interest: An article of importance in its field
