Version: 0  Date: 29 Nov 2016

Reviewer: Manuela Garcia de La Hera

Reviewer's report:

The paper deals with a very interesting subject. Explore Impact of weight maintenance and loss on diabetes risk and burden. The study was conducted 33184 participants aged 30-60 years with 10 years follow-up in Sweden. The main finding was the weight maintenance in adulthood is strongly associated with reduced incident diabetes risk. These results may have public health interest for diabetes promotion and prevention in whole population.

It is a valuable study and the results obtained are a real contribution to the knowledge in the area. The paper is clearly written in each one of the different sections and references are mostly appropriate.
