Title: Knowledge, Attitude and Status of Nitrite Inhalants Use Among Men Who Have Sex with Men in Tianjin China

Version: 0 Date: 06 Oct 2016

Reviewer: Russell Barbour

Reviewer's report:

While this paper presents some interesting material, the authors should consider additional discussion of the question of RUSH use and the observed HIV and other disease prevalence observed, i.e. why no relationship was found. The statistical table that distinguishes RUSH use by characteristics would benefit from being reorganized, perhaps separate tables for demographics, disease prevalence etc. The data is also a bit old, 2012 and some acknowledgement, that given the speed of change of internet based knowledge, this represents perhaps a baseline for future studies.
