Title: Social determinants of accessibility to birth registration in Lao PDR

Version: 1 Date: 02 Oct 2017

Reviewer: Anne Cockcroft

Reviewer's report:

The authors have responded to my previous comments and made important changes in the article.

Some small points remain:

P6, line 23. Change to "children whose parents self-reported..."

P7, line 7. Change to "whether there were significant associations between..."

I remain unconvinced by the authors' response about why they created three models. But model 3 apparently began with inclusion of all the variables significant in bivariate analysis. So readers can see that some of the variables significant in the more limited models were no longer significant when further variables were taken into account.
