Title: Implementation of health promotion programmes in schools: An approach to understand the influence of contextual factors on the process?

Version: 2 Date: 05 Oct 2017

Reviewer's report:

This manuscript is much improved and the authors have addressed reviewer feedback well. The manuscript is lengthy, and in particular, the introduction would benefit from editing to be more concise and focused. As it is, the lengthy introduction risks losing the reader and it needs to be more clearly stated at the start what the research intended to do. There remain some errors in grammar, tense and syntax that should be corrected, for example the first sentence "When children's health is considered in a holistic perspective" should read "When children's health is considered FROM a holistic perspective". With edits to improve flow and shorten the manuscript I would be comfortable with it being accepted for publication.
