Title: Availability of healthier vs. less healthy food and food choice: An online experiment

Version: 0 Date: 30 Apr 2018

Reviewer: Rita Akutsu

Reviewer's report:

The authors should add in the introduction the theoretical foundations about human choices. Such reasoning must also be present in the discussions.

I suggest adding a theoretical counterpoint to minimize the effects of changes in study design, especially regarding response inhibition, cognitive load, and food choice. The fact of having made two important changes in the study requires a more careful theoretical support.
