Reviewer's report:

Dear Authors,

I really enjoyed reading this very well written paper. I particularly enjoyed your explorative approach to understanding the association with stroke and sexual activity at a community level, and the subsequent outcomes are so important to address in relation to providing future education and treatment modalities. This work is inclusive the health beliefs of the population and has much to offer to clinicians. I felt there was a real connection and understanding of your participants and that your knowledge and subsequent approach has introduced a rare insight into a very sensitive topic within this population. A real pleasure to read.
