Reviewer’s report

Title: A severe case of Streptococcal pyogenes empyema following influenza A infection

Version: 1 Date: 02 Jan 2019

Reviewer: Victor Huber

Reviewer's report:

I thank the authors for adequately addressing my comments related to the presentation of findings in the clinical course of this secondary infection. I especially appreciate the inclusion of the time course in Figure 1. I also appreciate the revisiting of the literature that the authors present, as well as the addition of normal values in Table 1.

My only comment would be to have the article read through once more for editing to make sure that proper word usage and sentence structure is adhere to throughout the manuscript.
