Title: Complications after non-surgical management of proximal humeral fractures: a systematic review of terms and definitions

Version: 0 Date: 21 Jan 2019

Reviewer: Aziz Atik

Reviewer’s report:

I congratulate the authors for such a well-thought, well-designed study. Authors put a finger on a very complicated topic about proximal humerus fractures. Many fields of medicine may contain confused, mismatched terms like PHF. Any attempt to resolve this deserves a big praise.

One small thing: if the authors delayed with the problem so much then they may offer some solutions concretely. Yes, there must be a consensus about terms, but how? What do the authors offer?
