Reviewer’s report

Title: Are changes in radiological leg alignment and femoral parameters after total hip replacement responsible for joint loading during gait?

Version: 1 Date: 02 Sep 2019

Reviewer: David Lunn

Reviewer's report:

I would like to thank the authors for their responses and now recommend this work for publishing. The authors sufficiently addressed my concerns and highlighted limitations which doesn't take anything away from the main findings and improves the quality of the manuscript. There are a few slight changes which would improve the manuscript but I will leave this to the authors/editors discretion.
