Title: Choroid Vascular Occlusion and Ischemic Optic Neuropathy after Facial Calcium Hydroxyapatite Injection

Version: 3  Date: 23 December 2014

Reviewer: Milos Pavlovic

Reviewer’s report:

Dear authors,

this is well written report on a serious side occurring after CaHA injection into the nasal area. I have only minor comments. Specifically, there are two spelling errors (page 3, line 76, "papillary" but should be "pupillary" and page 4, line 128, "release", should probably be "relieve"). Also, it would be helpful if known to present data on the amount of injected material, location of injections and was it done through a needle or cannula.

Congratulation for the paper!
