Title: Surgical Correction of Hyperlordosis in Facioscapulohumeral Muscular Dystrophy. A Case Report

Version: 0 Date: 23 Mar 2017

Reviewer: Mohammad Samadian

Reviewer’s report:

The authors report a good example of hyperlordosis treatment in a known disease. They corrected the hyperlordosis and explained the result of surgery. As a case report, it is good for publication, but for decision making and case selection of this type of corrective surgery, we need more cases and long-term follow-up of the patients.
