The case report is valuable to take attention to the recurrence risk of Castelman disease even for several years. However, a few points should be clarified and revised. Discussion section; Page4 Line:15-24: The incidence knowledge taken from references numbered 9 and 10. These references should be read more carefully. Reference numbered 10, written by Mohanna S et al states that previous studies indicates 46-70 % involvement of mediastinum. Whereas it is stated "The most common site of involvement of UCD is the mediastinum (70%).", These two statements are not the same. This part of discussion should be corrected according to the references numbered 9 and 10. Legends: CD3, CD5, CD20 positivity related figures are not present, and should be deleted from legends.
