Reviewer’s report

Title: An extremely rare case of lesser omental hernia in an elderly female patient following total colectomy

Version: 0 Date: 10 Jun 2019

Reviewer: Ulf Gunnarsson

Reviewer's report:

This is a generally well-written case report describing a very rare type of case and thus in general practice the possible improvement steps generated by the text is limited. However, attention also to rare causes of abdominal emergencies may be motivated and, when occurring, surgeons can be guided from the comprehensive review of the literature.

The subdivision of Group II cases must be further motivated and the need for and the benefit from it must be explained.

What is the possible improvement by introducing a subdivision of extremely rare cases?
