Title: A case report of severe degenerative lumbar scoliosis associated with windswept lower limb deformity

Version: 0 Date: 01 May 2020

Reviewer's report:

This is a well-written paper. The authors presented a unique degenerative scoliosis case. Some modifications still be addressed before possible acceptance.
1, Abstract, Line 6: DS should be degenerative scoliosis.
2, Did the authors have a MDT discussion with joint surgeons? If yes, what was the suggestions from joint surgeons?
3, I think the post-op coronal imbalance is related to pelvic obliquity, the iliac fixation may be needed in the primary surgery. This should be discussed more in depth.
4, Fig 1 and 2, too many measurements on the images, only necessary lines should be kept, such as the line between iliac crests, the line showing balance.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
