Reviewer's report:

Dear Author,

- At the very beginning of your paper you mention that 20% of the ureteral tumors are benign. Could you please send us the exact step of the paper that you mention who report these finding?

- During the initial study of the case you performed a retrograde pyelography but, didn't you performed any UroCt scan before? As we know haematuria is tumor based till you cannot demonstrate the contrary.

- Don't you have any endoscopic image?

- You describe just the thulium laser ablation but maybe is better to also say that you made one or more biopsies than you can justify the histological description.

- Could be better to explain what kind of follow up did you do (UroCt scan? cytology?)

- As the 4 cases described are all women, did you noticed an association with endometriosis?
