Title: Topical treatment with fresh human milk versus emollient on atopic eczema spots in young children: a small, randomized, split body, controlled, blinded pilot study

Version: 3  Date: 19 March 2015

Reviewer: Hywel Williams

Reviewer's report:

This is still a small and inconclusive study, but it has been improved a lot by the authors in the way it has been realistically described and reported. As my old boss used to say "there is nothing wrong with dirty data providing you have a clean mind". Given the high public interest in this area, this study and its improved reporting provides at least some useful information for others wishing to perform a larger study, and I think it needs to be in the public domain now.
