Title: Madurella mycetomatis infection of the foot: a case report of a neglected tropical disease in a non-endemic region

Version: 0 Date: 26 Jul 2019

Reviewer: Noureddine Litaiem

Reviewer's report:

The authors of this article described a typical case of eumycetoma in a 64-year-old patient. This case presentation could have an educational value. I suggest however the following:

- Several English language mistakes need to be corrected.
- Please provide images of the direct examination and fungal culture if available.
- Dermoscopy was recently described as an auxiliary tool that could be helpful for the early diagnosis of mycetoma (https://doi.org/10.1111/ijd.14187). Please add a brief description in the discussion section.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.

Yes

Does the work include the necessary controls?
If not, please specify which controls are required in your comments to the authors.

Unable to assess

Are the conclusions drawn adequately supported by the data shown?
