Title: Inequalities in oral health among adolescents in Gangneung, South Korea

Version: 1 Date: 14 Feb 2018

Reviewer's report:

1) I am satisfied with the author's response, but the manuscript would benefit from a thorough edit for grammar/language. Sometimes the authors use the single form of a noun instead of plural, or missed punctuation, used wrong prepositions (of particular concern is newly added sentences). For instance "Variable to measure oral health behaviours"/?/ diverse opinions for the ..?/ some of others...?? / KNOHS) which established by the...??.. These examples cannot guarantee that all mistakes are addressed and I suggest to clean up the manuscript grammatically.

2) Table 3 shows that D rate is significant for FAS in adjusted model -1.34(0.94-1.91) * [But, CI has crossed 1]. Do correct the mistake.

This paper has a potential to be accepted after language editing.
