The topic of the review is a novel and meaningful about adjuctive usage of antibiotics (esp azithromycin) in periodontal therapy. There are some statements about the structure of the text that should be corrected by the authors.

1. There are some confusing states about abbreviations. The abbreviations should be written out completely in the text when first used. And also scaling and root planning/ non-surgical periodontal therapy /quadrant wise regime.....????There were mistakes that cause misunderstandings about the use of those abbreviations. Those about the situation, abbreviations were highlighted in the text and notes were also attached to the text.

2. The conclusion sentence in the abstract should be re-written according to this reviewer because of its incoherency.
