Reviewer's report:

Dear Editor

Thank You very much for your invitation to evaluate this manuscript (OHEA-D-18-00610) entitled as "Factors influencing incidents of complications while using Nickel-Titanium rotary instruments for root canal treatment; a questionnaire study" This study aimed to evaluate the dental clinicians' experience on incidents of complications while using Nickel-Titanium rotary instruments; however the study was conducted only with dental practitioners and endodontist from Saudi Arabia; and the findings of this survey could not be generalize to all population in the world; therefore, I am suggesting to perform this questionnaire study with a large population including international dental practitioners.

I hope that you will find these comments valuable and that you will rework the analysis and the manuscript in order to submit it at another time-point.

Best Regards
