Reviewer's report:

It was my pleasure to review the manuscript entitled: "Power modes of a sonic irrigation device affects its effectiveness for root canal disinfection" (ID OHEA-D-20-00052) submitted to the BMC Oral Health. The manuscript is original and brings to the literature an applicable information regarding the use of sonic devices for root canal disinfection. The study was well written, methods were appropriate, and the results and discussion were consistent. My recommendation is: accept without revision
