Title: Prevalence of Trichomonas Vaginalis Infection in Egyptian Women: Cross-Sectional Study

Version: 5 Date: 25 August 2014

Reviewer: Asghar Fazaeli

Reviewer’s report:

1- English writing still need improving.
2- The parasite species name should be corrected to standard writing as “T. vaginalis“
3- The reference number of the agreement issued by the local organization Ethical Committee must be referred to in the manuscript.
4- The reference list should be modified according to the format defined by the Journal guideline.
5- The authors were recommended, in the first reviewing, to include the other STI or vaginitis agents detected in the study patients, particularly the T. v positive cases. However, they are not yet mentioned in the manuscript.
6- There is no caption for the Figure to address different panels; neither the panels are labeled to be addressed in the Fig description.

Level of interest: An article whose findings are important to those with closely related research interests

Quality of written English: Not suitable for publication unless extensively edited

Statistical review: Yes, but I do not feel adequately qualified to assess the statistics.
