Title: Stress, health and quality of life of female migrant domestic workers in Singapore: A cross-sectional study

Version: 2 Date: 27 Jun 2017

Reviewer: CARLOS SIQUEIRA

Reviewer’s report:

The paragraph "Participants were holders of a Work Permit, meeting the criteria for a 'foreign domestic worker' as stated by the Singapore government [16], and had access to days off with non-standard frequency. Proficiency in English and a minimum of 8 years of formal education are criteria for a Work Permit in Singapore, and thus all participants were found to have sufficient proficiency to understand and fully engage with the questionnaires." was wrongly moved from the section participants and materials to statistical analysis. I think that the authors may have misunderstood comments made. The right place for this paragraph is in the participants and materials section.
