Thank you for adequately responding to my suggestions. I have only one final comment - I suggest taking out the word 'Foreign' on the first line of p.18 as a descriptor. This term in this context results in 'othering' women who do not identify as Spanish. I suggest simply stating, some of the women in our sample....since your paper is not comparing Spanish women to women who identify as being from somewhere other than Spain.

I'm looking forward to seeing this published!
