Reviewer report

Solomon Weldemariam: Thank you for the opportunity to review this manuscript entitled: Women's contraceptive discontinuation and switching behavior in urban Senegal, 2010-2015. This is a second revision to me for this manuscript.

General: The punctuation, spelling, capitalization, abbreviations and overall grammar are addressed.

Introduction:

1. All concerns are addressed

Methods:

1. Regarding design and data collection procedure are now addressed

2. But still my concern is not addressed on emergency contraceptive; due you think it is recommended to use Emergency contraceptive as routine? As to me emergency contraceptive should not be included in discontinuation group, because it is taken when individuals forgets or delay to take their routine contraceptive. Other concern the "other" modern methods should be describe either in bracket or as foot note under the table

3. Other concerns already addressed in methodology

Result:

1. All my concerns are addressed
Discussion:

1. All concerns are addressed in discussion part

Conclusion:

My concern already addressed

Solomon Weldemariam
