This work is interesting from both points of view: social and women's health. However, the writing of the work seems to me scientifically deficient, and also the English language.

The abstract should include the definition or what they have considered early marriage; and in statistical methods indicate what is COR and AOR. In addition, Table 1 included in the text must be Table 2.

Please overwrite this text when adding your comments to the authors.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
