Title: Factors Associated with Quality of Life of Postmenopausal Women Living in Iran

Version: 2 Date: 17 Mar 2020

Reviewer: Elżbieta Grochans

Reviewer's report:

The authors supplemented the data referred to in the previous review. The study is methodologically correct, the results are well-described. The conclusions are too general and need to be slightly corrected—they should refer to the examined group only. Anyway, the studied women are a very interesting group, and the variables taken into account give a very interesting view on postmenopausal women's problems.
