Reviewer’s report:

Thank you for the opportunity to review the revised manuscript titled, "Evaluation of the feasibility, acceptability, and effectiveness of a clinical yoga program for veterans: Yoga via telehealth provides comparable satisfaction and health improvements to in-persona yoga." Overall, I believe the authors have addressed the reviewers' concerns.

The revisions address important issues such as the detailing of how the program is provided. This will help with translation of this research into practice and inform other researchers who would like to replicate this study.

The shift to feasibility, acceptability and effectiveness makes a stronger connection to the true function of this study and the paper. The wording is softened to reflect the limitations of the study while still reflecting the importance and relevance of the outcomes.

The authors included the IRB note related to permission to study in this setting.
