Title: Comparative efficacy of Chinese medicine injections for treating acute cerebral infarction: A network meta-analysis of randomized controlled trials

Version: 1 Date: 28 Jan 2018

Reviewer: Michał Bijak

Reviewer’s report:

This work presents very compleitive meta-analysis about TCM in cerebral ischemic but it has 2 big issues which must be corrected before publication:

The full composition of used Chinese herbal injections must be provided and compared between all analyzed studies to standardized results within this point these analysis is not trustworthy. There is need to compare each type treatment and based this analysis authors should get the conclusions.

Figures are in low quality (mainly 2-6), there is problem for reader to get any information from them

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
