Acute Liver Failure Associated with Fructus Psoraleae: A Case Report and Literature Review

1. Suggest authors to weaken the definite conclusion or "patient dying from Fructus Psoraleae" throughout the whole manuscript, because this is authors' judgement. Since patient did not ONLY take Fructus Psoraleae, the causality of her liver failure and death could not be so certain. Suggest authors to use words such as "likely" to describe the causality.

2. Language wise, further polishing and editing is still needed. There are some sentences are not written in the style of academic English in the current manuscript. I suggest authors working closely with a strong native editor of medical English to improve the quality of language.

Are the methods appropriate and well described?
If not, please specify what is required in your comments to the authors.
