Reviewer’s report

Title: Self-reported needs for improving the supervision competence of PhD supervisors from the medical sciences in Denmark

Version: 1 Date: 24 May 2017

Reviewer's report:

The authors have taken a great deal of notice of the reviewer comments and the piece seems enhanced as a result. More exploration of a variety of supervisor support courses, clarification about context and other issues have been dealt with. The specific issues associated with a medical context still need some attention. The major issue is the overall need for proofreading. There are capitals where lower case letters are needed eg in the Gothenburg university sentences, and there are some commas etc where none are needed. I am sure most of this can be attended to with a final focused proofread.
