Title: Core competencies in genetics for healthcare professionals: results from a literature review and a Delphi method

Version: 0 Date: 27 Nov 2018

Reviewer: Marta Ambrozewicz

Reviewer's report:

I think that authors did a great job of tackling the problems of the lack of the universal curricula in genetics in their home country. Design of the literature review is well thought through and implemented. Discussion seems to be comprehensive and well related to the results.
