Reviewer's report:

Dear authors,

Your paper is much improved compared to the first version. It addresses an interesting service learning experience. Methods and results are good and clear now.

Unfortunately, still you did not answer some of my previous comments. As you write in results and conclusion about 'cultural awareness' and 'cultural competence' you really should provide a definition with reference to international literature (the 2 papers on migrants you cite do not provide this definition) and some description on what you mean by this, and to what extent these competences were assessed / improved in the project. If you add this information, your paper will make a valuable contribution also in the field of teaching cultural competencies.
