Version: 1 Date: 09 Dec 2019

Reviewer: Mpho Mogodi

Reviewer's report:

It is commendable that authors addressed most of the issues raised satisfactorily.

It should be noted that the introduction has been strengthened, the conceptual framework used is clear, and the limitations of the study are well articulated.

From the Health professions education perspective, it would be great to have some educational theory guiding this study.

This is a great study that advocates for integration of social determinants of health (SDOH) in health care provision.
