Title: Structural Racism in Precision Medicine: all patients are equal but some patients are more equal than others

I am happy to review a revised version of the manuscript "Structural Racism in Precision Medicine: all patients are equal but some patients are more equal than others". I am very thankful to the editorial office of BMC Medical Ethics for choosing me to review the same. My comments are as below.

* Authors have taken care to include the suggested revisions and made subtle modifications in the manuscript wherever necessary.
* I am also satisfied by the authors' comments on the modifications suggested by me and on the revisions made therein.
* I am also very pleased and satisfied at the modifications made in figure 1, which appears more informative now.
* I can also see that there no change in the flow of the content and objective after the inclusion of suggested revisions.
* I recommend this manuscript for future actions without any suggested revisions form my side.
