Reviewer’s report

Title: Dishonesty and research misconduct within the medical profession

Version: 1 Date: 28 Jan 2020

Reviewer: Latifah Amin

Reviewer's report:
This is such a good topic to discuss particularly there is very limited publication that highlight research misconduct among doctors. There is also great concern that doctors are only equipped to do diagnosis and treat patients but they are also pressure to conduct and publish research findings without being educate about ethics of publishing. With the subheading it is easier to read and see the flow of the writing. Since this article focuses on the UK scenario, I believe the case example is suffice. The article is properly written and hopefully it will lead to further empirical research related to research misconduct & physician.

Quality of written English
Please indicate the quality of language in the manuscript:

Acceptable

Declaration of competing interests
Please complete a declaration of competing interests, considering the following questions:

1. Have you in the past five years received reimbursements, fees, funding, or salary from an organisation that may in any way gain or lose financially from the publication of this manuscript, either now or in the future?

2. Do you hold any stocks or shares in an organisation that may in any way gain or lose financially from the publication of this manuscript, either now or in the future?

3. Do you hold or are you currently applying for any patents relating to the content of the manuscript?

4. Have you received reimbursements, fees, funding, or salary from an organization that holds or has applied for patents relating to the content of the manuscript?

5. Do you have any other financial competing interests?

6. Do you have any non-financial competing interests in relation to this paper?
If you can answer no to all of the above, write 'I declare that I have no competing interests' below. If your reply is yes to any, please give details below.

I declare that I have no competing interests.

I agree to the open peer review policy of the journal. I understand that my name will be included on my report to the authors and, if the manuscript is accepted for publication, my named report including any attachments I upload will be posted on the website along with the authors' responses. I agree for my report to be made available under an Open Access Creative Commons CC-BY license (http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/). I understand that any comments which I do not wish to be included in my named report can be included as confidential comments to the editors, which will not be published.

I agree to the open peer review policy of the journal