Reviewer's report

Title: Practicing evidence based medicine at the bedside: a randomized controlled pilot study in undergraduate medical students assessing the practicality of tablets, smartphones, and computers in everyday clinical life

Version: 4 Date: 28 August 2014

Reviewer: Christopher Pearce

Reviewer's report:

the authors have dealt with the each issues I raised. I think they have not fully understood my comment about usability, which was the 'user friendly’ features of the website - which also goes to the other point, about the use of Index Medicus as a gold standard. One of the reasons other sources exist is the cognitive load of having to rapidly interpret a lot of literature has led to the uptodate and BMJ best evidence - designed to present an integrated

Level of interest: An article of limited interest

Quality of written English: Acceptable

Statistical review: No, the manuscript does not need to be seen by a statistician.

Declaration of competing interests:

I declare that I have no competing interests